Personal styles

breakcore, grindcore

Woosh! This is a blast to blow the most stubborn hair implants! The American Aaron Specter (that's the name!), Living in Berlin recently, takes advantage of his training drummer and founded Drumcorps, tribute to the Bong-Ra punk and furious metal (death, grind and similar)) in more effective! Imagine completely schizo beats, starting in all directions and following the rhythmic structures of grindcore against a background of fat riffs sampled and played. A voice of skinned alive eyeing the screamo and hardcore side and especially an uncontrolled madness (in appearance) that only interrupts very rarely ("Worse", only real respite) on the 34 minutes of this "Grist" hallucinated. "Power Violence" is the key word accompanied by his minions "Aggression", "Epilepsy" and "Neurons on standby". Appointment to the HP is taken and in the meantime ... THRAAAAAAASSSSH!

I take a ball because I come back pretty little finally! Only a few titles are really good, the rest is a little below alas!

Note given to the disc:

certes! mentionné les groupes concerné, au vu des titres, était clairement dispensable mais au moins dire que c'est des réinterprétations me semblait la moindre des choses pour ce genre de disque! après c'est vrai je me suis un peu emballé, je m'en excuse! l'erreur est humaine et les frautes de fappes ça arrive a tout le monde! mea culpa!
